- “Auraria Library is seeking support from CU Denver faculty for licensing priorities and principles as they continue to see a reduction in access to information and resources due to inequitable vendor and publisher prices and practices. Impact requires a community effort with faculty from other schools and colleges supporting these vital changes in the scholarly publishing industry. Faculty support strengthens their position in renegotiating contracts with vendors and publishers. Libraries that have already started to push for this change include: CU Boulder, CSU, Colorado School of Mines, University of Wyoming.”
